

Aero Function Announces The Release of their Premium Body Kits at CustomAutoTrim.Com

(1888PressRelease) Bringing a premium body kit with a 3 year warranty to the market takes a certain vision, a dedication to quality designs and a commitment to value. Now a Southern California company that specializes in premium brand body kits has released the new Aero Function Body Kit lineup to their customers and the response has been tremendous.

San Diego, CA (1888PressRelease) Aero Function, a premium brand body kit manufacturer has announced that Custom Auto Trim and Graphics Inc. will release the new Aero Function body kits, their Premier Brand of body kits to the aftermarket. Releasing new body kits to the automobile aftermarket ahead of the competition has always been a main focus of the company, and for the new Aero Function Body kits the response has been tremendous.

"Aero Function Body Kits are one of the best quality body kits on the automobile aftermarket. They fit better than most any other brand body kit on the market. Aero Function guarantees fitment as well as offering a 3 year guarantee on the all of their body kits which is almost unheard of in the body kit industry. Bringing this new line to our company only supports our position to offer the best products and pricing available directly to the customer. We always want to bring the customer new styles of body kits before anyone else does," said Mike Briglia, president and head of the company's online store CustomAutoTrim.Com.

"Bringing a premium body kit with a 3 year warranty to the market takes a certain vision, a dedication to quality designs and a commitment to value. Aero Function Body Kits are handmade producing high quality parts that meet customer demands," Briglia said.

Numerous customer testimonials to be found on Custom Auto Trim's website (www.customautotrim.com) support that claim, while others cite the company's exceptionally extensive inventory of top quality products as a major draw. Such auto and truck accessories as body kits, car spoilers, truck graphics, euro tail lights are among Custom Auto Trim's most popular products, Briglia said.

Founded in 1997, Custom Auto Trim has been a premier supplier of body kits and car accessories, and serves many industries including automotive, recreational vehicle, boats and heavy truck. Some applications of their products can be found at car dealerships including spoilers and wings for cars and trucks, ground effects, body side molding, custom pinstriping, truck decals, and stainless steel nerf bars for trucks and SUV.
